Christmas Mail Exceeds That of 1941

To date the volume of Christmas mail handled by the local office far exceeds that for the like period of last year" according to a statement made by Postmaster Bell this morning.

The Postmaster attributes this large increase to the fact that the public has responded to the recent warning issued by the Post Office Department to the effect that this year Holiday remembrances, gifts and greeting cards (except local) must be in the mails by December 12th to assure delivery by Christmas.

Mr. Bell stated further, that, in order to give an opportunity to those patrons who are unable to visit the office during regular business hours and who desire to mail gifts and greetings in time for Christmas delivery, that the parcel post and stamp windows of the local office would remain open until 6 p. m. Saturday December 12th and until 9 p. m. Monday, December 14th.

Men Under 18, Over 38, Still Acceptable For Naval Branches

Chief Petty Officer Edward C. White, in charge of army recruiting here and in town today and tomorrow, reports on the new orders pertaining to enlistment regulations.

According to the December 5 order of President Roosevelt, volunteer enlistments have been stopped for men between the ages of 18 and 38 years, applicable to all branches of naval service.

However, Officer White reminds local men that those who have made applications prior to the issuance of the new order may still be enlisted, provided their acceptance is effected this week.

The local recruiter may still enlist men who are 17 years of age, or between the ages of 38 and 50. He will be at 238 Pennsylvania avenue, west, every Wednesday and Thursday until further orders.

GIVEN ILLEGAL DEER

The Salvation Army was presented yesterday with a fine illegal deer which will be cut up and given to families to whom the meat will be an aid. The number of illegal deer killed this year has been very small, reflecting the care exercised by hunters in the woodlands.

THREE DAY HOLIDAY

Bradford merchants have decided to give their employees a three day holiday at Christmas. They will close their stores on Thursday evening and will not be open for business until the following Monday. Saturday will be a holiday as after the Christmas holiday the merchants feel there will be little demand from buyers on the day following.

WILL PLACE CONTRACT

In line with the action taken by town council at its meeting Monday evening a contract will be placed by the borough with the Federal Electric Company, of Chicago, for the eight sirens and fittings approved Monday. It is expected that the city will be able to receive the sirens and have them installed.

WILL MAKE CHECK UP

Loran L. Lewis, chief attorney for the Office of Price Control Administration in the Pittsburgh district, has announced that his investigation staff will begin a drive to check the extent of compliance on general maximum price regulations in Western Pennsylvania. Accompanying the investigators into each section will be an enforcement attorney, Samuel M. Chertoff, who will advise on the handling of the irregularities.

COMMEMORATIVE SERVICE

In conjunction with the regular meeting of Warren Council, K. of C., to be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the newrooms of the organization on Pennsylvania avenue west, will be held the annual memorial service in memory of the honored dead. This is a most beautiful and impressive service and no doubt will be witnessed by a large part of the members. Warren Council has lost two members by death during the last year, James Dulan, of Sheffield, and A. Reno Morrison.

REGISTRATION PLACES

Draft Board No. 1 has arranged for the registration of "teen age men starting tomorrow under the proclamation of Governor Arthur H. James. Registration will be made at the Draft Board office and also at the following places: At Russell—John Van Orsdale will register men at the National store; At Clarendon—James Shmonsky at the Clarendon Postoffice; At Kinzua—Lynn Shipman at the Shipman School House. The board is anxious to make an arrangement for the registration of men at Corydon and is working to that end. Due to the gas rationing, tire situation and slippery roads, Draft Board No. 1 feels that these additional registration points will be a great aid to the young men who are required to register.

Warren Stores Enjoying Big Business As Christmas Nears

The first real high point in the Christmas shopping phase was reached last Saturday when thousands of gift purchasers took advantage of the improved weather conditions to visit the stores and gather up items on their shopping lists.

For several days the severe cold and stormy weather had caused many persons to delay Christmas shopping activities but realization of the fact that the supply is somewhat limited caused many to take advantage of the first favorable day. When that fell on Saturday it only added to the crowds in the stores. Scores were here from towns in this section.

All of the stores in the city were busy all day Saturday and Sunday evening. In fact the buyers were out in such force that even with extra help many merchants were almost unable to cope with the crowds. Despite restriction on Christmas supplies due to the global war the merchants are doing a good job of supplying the needs of their customers.

It is no secret that merchants have been severely limited in their purchases of things for Christmas. They bought all they could but were hampered by the lack of supplies at the sources. The same condition prevails all over the country giving the merchants many headaches in their efforts to secure selections for their patrons. Many of the regular Christmas specials are conspicuous by their absence.

Buyers have continued their hegia into the business section this week and yesterday with a bright sun shining there were many purchasers. Out of town buyers were marked in the crowds of Tuesday despite the travel limitations. The fact remains that Warren is the buying center for the smaller towns of this section and Kane, Johnsonburg and Ridgway shoppers were noted in the crowds.

The merchants are finding that the patrons of the stores are appreciative of the situation and in many cases where the exact things buyers sought were not available substitutes were accepted. In the end it is believed there will be few dissatisfied customers and the folk of this section dependent on shopping in Warren will find that their wants can fully be attended to here.

The stores have prepared for the rush and the old motto "What you want's in Warren" is almost as true today as when it was coined.

TRUCKS AT WORK

Pick-up trucks are still at work gathering up the piles of scrap left in front of homes about the city on Pearl Harbor Day. The response was good, but there were many who failed to get their quota of scrap to the curb. In the county the schools and residents did well and along the highways where trucks can gather it much scrap was piled. Chairman Corbett, of the Salvage Committee was somewhat disappointed at the response in the borough and feels that much more scrap could have been put out than appeared on the curbs. If scrap is missed by the pick-up trucks a call to the office of the Council of Defense on Market street will bring a truck.

RECEIPTS FALLING OFF
Receipts from the parking meters about town have taken a downward curve and the employees at the city building who count and package the nickles deposited in the meters are not kept as busy as they were. On the first day of gasoline rationing the receipts were up in good shape, in fact better than the average. Then the storm broke and car owners took to the buses and the parking meters were given the absent treatment. Just how the receipts will be when the storm breaks and traffic becomes normal is causing some discussion among officials.

Three Lose Lives In Fire In Erie County

Erie, Dec. 9.—(P)—A mother, her daughter and young sister lost their lives yesterday in a fire which razed the old John Phelps farmhouse, located on the Half Moor road, near Lowville, more than a quarter-mile from the nearest neighbor's house.

The victims were Mrs. Ruth Vogt, 25, her daughter, Amelia, 7, and sister, Theresa Phelps, 9. Harold Phelps, 18, brother of Mrs. Vogt, was severely burned in attempt to rescue them.

The youth said he started a fire in the kitchen stove and went to the barn to do the chores, chancing to look back, he saw smoke pouring from the windows of the house. He pushed back into it, but flames seared him and drove him out.

The house burned so furiously that when neighbors arrived they, too, were helpless. It was five hours before the blackened ruins cooled enough to permit a search for the bodies.

TIMES TOPICS

WILL INSPECT CLOSELY
In accordance with the orders issued by the Department of Labor and Industry at Harrisburg, Gurney R. Ball, of Youngsville, the district inspector calls attention to the fact that the use of inflammable materials in Christmas decorations in schools, churches, auditoriums or any place of public assemblage is prohibited. Mr. Ball says he plans to inspect all such places in the counties in his district during the next few days, and that all violators of the order will be prosecuted.

GARAGES ARE BUSY
Anyone who had ideas that gas rationing would cause cobwebs to gather on the gas stations and that the attendants would enslave Rip Van Winkle was badly mistaken. During the past few days the garages have been extremely busy. Anti-freeze has been in great demand; tires are being inspected and checked with greater care than ever before; frozen radiators have been given attention and the service cars have been called out innumerable times to get cars started, out of drifts and into motion. Several parties of hunters were stuck in drifts near Scandia and garagemen had to be called to get them out.

MERRY-MAKING IS AN ART

The question of how to enjoy a real merry Christmas this year is answered in a special AP feature story which suggests—"take it easy and keep healthy."

Christmas brings excitement and extra work. There's much to be done before Santa comes hustling down the chimney—presents to be bought, cards to be mailed, shopping for the Christmas feast, house-cleaning and decorating.

The only way to do all these chores in time to enable you to enjoy Christmas is to do them early. Since mid-November most local shops have had Christmas merchandise on display. It's easy to buy them; stores are less crowded and there's a better selection.

With shopping and mailing done early, you'll be able to decorate your home leisurely. Stand on a firm chair or ladder, and make sure your support isn't on a slippery, waxy floor.

A balanced diet and plenty of rest will help ward off colds and prevent that weary feeling that creeps up on many around Christmas Eve.

If you intend to light a tree, you'd better proceed with caution—electricity is treacherous. You won't be shocked at what you find if you let an electrician repair the lighting system that always seems to blow with Christmas lights, electric trains, etc.

Warren stores will begin on December 17th, to remain open each evening until nine o'clock. You'll find it much easier and more satisfactory to do your shopping before that time. Don't wait until the last minute to complete that list.

CAUSE FOR ALARM

The success of many local drives has inevitably resulted in large accumulations of scrap at collection depots in all parts of the country. And these large stockpiles have in turn been the cause of misinformation and apprehension on the part of the general public. In some instances, the size of these piles of scrap created the mistaken impression that the need for scrap was not being moved as fast as it came in. These mistaken ideas must be corrected at once.

As R. K. White, Chief of the WPB General Salvage Section, points out, "community scrap piles can be likened to the corn in a farmer's crib. The fact that this corn is not being fed at the moment is no indication that the farmer grew more corn than he needed. It is simply being held in storage against the day when it will be required by his livestock."

It is essential that the public fully understand the true meaning of the growing scrap piles now springing up all over the country. The purpose of scrap drives is to build up an immense reservoir of easily accessible scrap which the steel mills can draw on throughout the winter months to maintain steel production at capacity. That point cannot be emphasized too often. Finally it must be driven home that dwindling stockpiles, and not growing stockpiles, are cause for alarm.

VALUABLE PAMPHLET

So that consumers will be able to repair their own electrical appliances in the near future when mechanics have gone into defense work, R. U. Burlingame, head of the department of Agricultural Engineering at Penn State, has issued a little book: "Home Electrification." This book was received today by the Defense Council chairman, Mrs. H. W. Conarro, and placed in the Warren Library for circulation.

"With the majority of home appliances not being made, each home owner must learn care and preventative maintenance. The civilian will have to roll up his sleeves and go to work to fix his own broken down equipment," Mr. Burlingame explains. He shows the proper way to care for all home equipment.

"Making Meat Stretch," a new bulletin issued by the Pennsylvania State Council of Defense was received in Warren today, and will be distributed among the women through the various church societies and clubs. It shows how much meat adults and children need, compares the meat allowance of European countries with United States, and gives many new recipes for "stretching meat." Several copies are now in the library.

The first fatality in Warren county resulting from a traffic accident since the 35-mile limit has been in force occurred Tuesday evening, demonstrating that even more caution is required on the part of motorists if such tragedies are to be averted during the winter season.

Local motorists are using up valuable gasoline these days trying to keep cars moving after they begin to slip on icy pavements.

KANE SNOW SHOVELERS

A crew of men was brought from Kane to this city last Friday to assist in the work of getting the snow out of the Warren yards of the Pennsylvania railroad company. The W. H. Christie Transportation Company of Kane used one of its big trucks for transporting the men to Warren. The heavy snowfall here gave the local section crews a little more work than they could handle.

Bob-Sleds Placed In Use To Aid County Junk - Snappers

"Sno use," said one junk-snapper to the other.
"What 'sno use," said tother junk-snapper to one.
"Junk-snapping," said one laconically.

"How come?" said tother.
"Too much snow," said one.
"Sno use, I tell you," said tother.
"Sno use, my boy," said tother.
"Splentya use. We'll just make use of the snow."
"And how, may I ask you?" said one.

"I'll show you," said tother. "You young puppies ain't had no training."
So the old junk-snapper and the young junk-snapper ailed them to the deepest recesses of the carriage-shed, swept away the cobwebs, and dragged forth the old bob-sled. And soon, snow or no snow, they were junk-snapping with a vengeance. And the young junk-snapper learned a thing or two about how they did it in grandpa's day.

Fiction? Nope. Sheer fact. good friends. If you don't believe it, go down to Youngsville and witness the heartening spectacle of scrap being brought in on those bob-sleds. Or take a trot up to Sugar Grove and see bob-sleds of the same genre doing the same good job for Uncle Sam. A little bell tinkles in the back of one's mind and out pops that magnificent stanz from Thomas Hardy.

"Only a man harrowing clods, in slow, silent walk;
And an old horse that stumbles and nods,
Half-asleep as they stalk."

Only thin smoke without flame
From the heaps of couch grass.
Bust these shall go onward the same
Though dynasties pass."

Just put in "junk-snapping" where it says "harrowing clods" and do away with the bonfire, and the picture is identical. Yes, these shall go onward the same. Herr Hitler. These men on their bob-sleds, these workers at the forges, these buyers of bonds, these soldiers on your tail.

Yes, these shall go onward—till Berlin and Tokyo and all your savage fastnesses have crumbled; till your dynasty of hate has passed into the eternal silence.

Just men on bob-sleds... workers... bond-buyers... soldiers...

The stout hearts around Youngsville and Sugar Grove don't need a ration card for their bob-sleds. And they're bringing in the scrap. Youngsville was the first to complete a full load in the current Pearl Harbor Day drive. Sugar Grove has reported 8 tons so far, and more on the way.

Will Warren county reach its goal of 250 tons? Ask Wylie Corbett, the hard-working, hard-hitting Salvage chairman. He won't tell you yet. But he will tell you to get your scrap ready. The drive did not end with December 7, but will continue all this week. Highway trucks will collect roadside farm scrap later in the week. For in-town pickup service call Defense Headquarters, 3043.

Yes, Adolf, it's bob-sled time in America. Look out!

Physical Fitness Discussed Before Social Science Club

Discussing "The Question of Physical Fitness," Homer W. Fleming, director of physical education in Beatty school, presented before the December meeting of Social Science Club one of the most interesting and provocative papers yet heard by the group.

Disclaiming any attempt to solve the perennially pressing problem of maintaining higher physical fitness, he gave a vivid picture of what the present draft has revealed concerning this problem, and some procedures leaders believe might help in a solution.

His analysis of draft rejections in the Civil War, World War I and the present conflict brought praise from doctors present. He stated that in spite of progressive better results of a modern health program over 40 years, it has taken a war crisis to reveal that two-fifths of what should be our healthiest group of Americans have been rejected for military service.

He declared the fundamentals of health to be nourishment, rest, sleep and play; faulty nutrition ranks high in causes of lowered physical fitness; play is important, yet most neglected by adults.

Most revealing was his discussion of physical education in the schools, with classes two to four times too large, facilities inadequate for effectiveness. He said this equipment is scandalously undermanned and under-equipped in junior and senior high schools and practically no facilities or proper attention given the grades, where the most emphasis should be.

As a foundation for adequately meeting this challenge of physical fitness, Mr. Fleming suggested some kind of school health coordinating council. Headed by an administrative officer with authority, it would include school doctor, nurse, physical educators, cafeteria, janitorial staffs, parent and teacher representatives, who collectively could recommend a proper health and physical education program. Beyond the schools would come provision of adequate sports and recreational facilities for the entire community.

In the absence of Chairman R. Pierson Eaton, Dr. James A. Davidson conducted the meeting. James E. Springer announced "Latin America" as program topic for January 2. Hosts for the evening were Blue Wendelboe, J. H. West, E. D. Wetmore, C. C. Winans and R. R. Young.

Draft System Now Under WMC Bureau

Formal incorporation of selective service into the war manpower commission raised the number of employees under McNutt, including those in field offices, to approximately 80,000 and made his staff one of the government's largest.

Selective service has some 21,000 paid employees, apart from 24,000 volunteer draft board members and about 150,000 physicians, lawyers and other non-paid helpers.

The U. S. Employment Service, the largest unit transferred to WMC, has about 22,000 employees and, commission statisticians said, the rest of the WMC staff totals about 10,000. Approximately 27,000 others work under McNutt in his capacity as head of the federal security agency.

the right to avoid a collision but the two vehicles met.

The left sides of both the truck and the sedan were badly damaged and Alford was pinned between the steering wheel and the seat of his machine. Rushed to the hospital it was not at first thought he was seriously hurt, but later internal hemorrhages developed. A partial post mortem revealed that he had sustained ruptures to the spleen and intestines and other internal injuries. His wife reached the hospital a short time before he died.

The entire left side of the sedan was torn away and one wheel was broken off. The truck lost the left fender, front tire and running board in addition to other damages.

The truck was the property of Peter Pecora, 188 West Washington street, Bradford, by whom Mr. Pitts is employed. The accident occurred on a straight stretch of highway, described as fairly dry by the police.

Today a triple investigation was launched into the tragedy, with District Attorney J. H. Goldstein and Coroner Ed Lowrey joining the State Police in the inquiry. A jury was to be impaneled this afternoon, and it is possible an inquest will be held later.

Mr. and Mrs. Alford have been married five and one-half years. They have no children. Besides his wife Mr. Alford is survived by his mother Mrs. Hazel Cox, Wattsburg, a sister Mrs. James Maynard, and brother Ralph Alford, both of Wattsburg.

Removal was made to the Peterson funeral home. The body will be taken to the Crow funeral home in Union City later in the day.

MONTGOMERY WARDS

SECOND STATEMENT

TO NATIONAL WAR LABOR BOARD

The following statement was submitted to the National War Labor Board at its meeting in Washington on December 8, 1942:

The War Labor Board on November 5, 1942, issued an order that Wards "incorporate" in a contract with a C. I. O. union at Chicago:

1. A clause establishing a form of the closed shop, called "Maintenance of Membership," together with a check-off of union dues from wages.

2. A clause providing for compulsory arbitration on any questions the union wishes to raise.

3. A clause guaranteeing in these uncertain times present wage and working conditions for a year.

Wards rejected this order of the Board for these reasons:

1. The Board was without authority. Congress, the only law-making authority under the Constitution, has not empowered the Board to order any employer to do any of the things which the Board demanded of Wards.

2. The order violated the fundamental principles of liberty. Liberty requires that an employee be free to join or to resign from a union without jeopardizing his livelihood. Liberty requires that an employer be free to employ the person best suited for the work.

3. The order was in itself illegal. The order requires Wards, first, to interfere with the free choice of its employees to resign from the union; second, to give support to the union by a check-off of union dues; and third, to discriminate against employees if they resigned their membership in the union, all in direct violation of the National Labor Relations Act.

4. Wards operates in a highly competitive field composed of 1,750,000 retail establishments. It is unfair to impose burdens upon Wards and not upon those with whom it is in competition.

The imposition of the Closed Shop against Wards cannot be justified by reference to the so-called No Strike Agreement. Wards was not a party to this agreement. Wards had no voice in the selection of those who, as representatives of Industry, attended the Conference in December, 1941, which formulated this agreement. Wards has never ratified the results of that Conference.

Furthermore, the conference itself did not agree that the War Labor Board might impose the Closed Shop principle. Those acting as representatives of Industry expressly recommended to the President that this issue not be considered by the Board. The Board, in ordering a form of Closed Shop at Wards, has acted contrary to these expressed recommendations of the Industry representatives.

If Wards had had the right to test the legality of the Board's demands in a court, Wards would have done so, but Wards was deprived of a remedy in the courts by the Board's complete lack of legal authority to compel obedience of its order. The court will only act when legal rights have been violated. The courts have declared that the mere making of demands which do not have to be obeyed does not, in the eyes of the law, violate any legal right. The Board's very lack of authority thus resulted in a denial to Wards, as it has to other employers, of a right to relief in the courts.

The President of the United States as well as the Board is wholly without constitutional authority to order any employer to do the things demanded of Wards. Nevertheless, in deep respect for the President and his great responsibility in time of war, Wards said, in rejecting the Board's order:

"If Congress imposed Closed Shops, compulsory arbitration or contracts for a year's duration on employers, or if the President of the United States, as Commander-in-Chief in time of war, directs that Wards accept the Board's ruling, which we earnestly believe is illegal and uneconomic, we will respectfully obey."

The President on November 18 wrote the Company, saying:

"As Commander-in-Chief in time of war . . . I . . . direct Montgomery Ward and Company to comply, without further delay, The National War Labor Board's directive order of November 5, 1942."

Wards immediately answered:

"Your order of November 18th has been received and will be promptly obeyed."

Wards thereupon altered the general form of its contract with unions and incorporated, word for word, the clauses ordered by the War Labor Board. This document was offered to the union. The Company has fully complied with the President's direction and will continue to do so.

The document which the President has directed Wards to sign is not a contract. The requisite of a contract is that there be a meeting of the minds or agreement between the parties. There has been no agreement between Wards and the union. The document which the President has ordered Wards to sign affects the rights and liberties of Wards and of its employees. Therefore, in order that the document itself may be clear and state the facts, Wards informatively included these three sentences:

"The following provisions are not voluntarily agreed to by the Company. In the Company's opinion they are illegal and unsound. These provisions are copied verbatim from the War Labor Board's order of November 5, 1942, and are incorporated herein, on the Company's part, under duress and only because the President of the United States as Commander-in-Chief in time of war has expressly ordered that they be included."

These three sentences are in all respects true. They do not alter the effect of the provisions ordered by the Board—provisions which Wards will carry out. Nevertheless, the union has refused to sign the offered document.

Wards will be happy to accept any improvement in the wording of this statement, but Wards will resist any attempt to hide the truth by a change in its substance.

On January 9, 1941, the President said:

"In the future days which we seek to make secure, we look forward to a world founded upon four essential human freedoms. The first is freedom of speech and expression—everywhere in the world."

Wards feels that it is bound by the rules of good citizenship to make sure that the simple truth about these provisions and Wards' acceptance of them be not hidden from or misrepresented to its 100,000 employees, its 60,000 shareholders, and its many millions of customers. The elimination of this statement would serve no purpose but to conceal the truth from readers of the document.

Wards has cheerfully met with the union and with this Board whenever requested. Wards has promptly obeyed the direction of the President. Wards insists that its right to tell the truth not be destroyed.

START INSTRUCTION

Local women who have volunteered within the past week for the control center staff of the local Defense Council assembled at control center last evening to begin their instruction. With the multiplicity of rulings, which amount practically to laws, being made by the various Boards, Bureaus, etc., created by the war lawyers who try to keep up with them are growing confused. Inasmuch as no one lawyer could afford to purchase all the volumes of rules and rulings a conference will be held soon with Judge Allison Wade and Warren Bar Association to discuss the matter. Covering The Sports Front!

BY "BOB" JOHNSON

Warren men and lassies have gone into this Red Cross bowling benefit, being currently held at the Arcade and Penn Bowling Center, like they were really in there pitching to do some good and that is just what it will amount to in no time. Hardly two days old and the tournament brings out some high records that will be tough to come close to, let alone knock down.

For those who do not understand the meaning of a head pin tourney, we'll strive to elucidate and bring out the fine points. In the first place, only one ball is thrown a frame and there are twelve frames. In order to rack up pins in these separate frames, you must hit the head pin every time. The most pins in one frame can be 10, while the highest game can only be 120 which includes twelve strikes in a row.

To delve further into the goodness of the cause and what the Red Cross gets out of it we'll go further. The proprietors get the same amount that they have been getting for a single game on the slides, which is two bits less a nickel; the benefit gets half a dollar and the rest goes into various prize amounts.

We realize that at this time of the year it is the average person hard to try reaching the full length of his jeans for that silver stuff, but lets give this thing full support and try to give as much satisfaction to those who have worked hard at it as we can.

Two professional outfits approached the Ohio State back recently who has been causing a mild sensation down that way by running, blocking and passing like one of the Chicago Bruins chargers—and put the props to him about joining up for a try at the bigger stuff come fall again—and that pals, was little Mister Hporvath, a 160 pounder—no less—can you imagine that boy backing up lines and blocking against those giants?

Last night, while taking one of those last flings at trying the bucks we happened upon at least ten hunters along a lie stretch of road and getting curious stopped and asked one of them what the score was. He said that a hunter had hit a deer hard and they are all waiting for it to come back across the field it had gone through to reach the woods. We asked if that wasn't kind of unsportsmanlike to take a deer that another had hit and was trailing, especially if he knew it. He said "well, gee all the rest are doing it" and we let it go. That. Note to that guy: That fellow finally reached the buck about 5 miles from where you were, so you can leave now.

ELK LEAGUE

Clean sweeps were the rule in the matches in the Elk league last evening with Simonsens taking four from Soda Minerals while Irwins were applying the white wash to Geracimos. C. Graebner's 227 was the only score above the double century while Clark had high three games with 562. Simonsens had high total and high team single game with 2580 and 896 respectively. The team totals:

Soda Mineral	790	806	832	2428
Simonsens	816	896	868	2580
Irwins	818	786	815	2419
Geracimos	780	757	778	2311

In one of the noisiest matches of the season at the alley Monday evening South Side Market took a trimming from Turners to the tune of 3 to 1. The grocers used everything but the gaboons to make noise, but the Turner outfit was deaf to everything but strikes and spares. On the one and two alleys Times-Mirror took three points from the National Transit team. The National evening was scored by (over) with a 271. Transit had high total with 550. The 961 rolled in the second by the National Transit was high game while Turners had high total with 2655. Other honor roll scores: Coach Ruggaber 207, J. Smith 214 and A. Johnson 211. The team totals:

Nat. Transit	791	901	771	2463
Times-Mirror	887	763	838	2488
Turners	887	804	804	2495
S. S. Market	864	892	838	2594

CONEWANGO CLUB

The Bjers team took three from MacDonalds in the Conewango club league last evening, the latter garnering one point with a high game of 870 in the second. Bjers had high team total with 2520. Honor roll scores were: Allen 200, Bjers 217, Howat 207, Branch 202. The team totals:

MacDonalds	744	870	775	2389
Bjers	864	828	840	2532

Little All-American Team Is Selected By Associated Press

New York, Dec. 9 (AP)—Jimmy (Casey) Jones, ace back from Tennessee's Union University, has been selected for the second successive year on the Little All-American football team, named today for the ninth time by the Associated Press.

Jones, for two years recognized as one of the south's leading backs regardless of the size of the school, is the only repeater on an eleven made up of four representatives from the mid-west, two each from the south, east and far west and one from the southwest.

However, one other back, Virgil Wagner of James Millikin (Illinois), was on the second team last year. Manspring of an eleven that rolled up a string of 16 victories in taking the Illinois College conference the last two seasons, Wagner's play improved so much he was placed in the backfield along with Jones, Rudolph (Little Doc) Mobley of Hardin-Simmons and Vince Pace of California's Loyola.

The quartet forms a high-scoring combination, the most interesting figure of which probably is the 150-pound Hardin-Simmons ball carrier. Rejected by south-west conference schools because of his small size, Mobley this season set a national ball-carrying record of more than 1,200 yards and also established a new standard for average ground gained per game. Mobley is the only sophomore on the team, composed of seven seniors and three juniors.

In front of this powerful backfield were placed Adrian Hassel, Amherst, and Aubrey Faust, Wofford, at ends; John Sanchez, San Francisco and Joe Kiernan, Rockhurst, at tackles; Hugh Bogovich, Delaware, and Warren Schmackel, Central Michigan, at guards, and Vincent Zachem, Morehead Teachers, at center.

The mid-west also led all other sections of the country in the number of men on the first three teams, landing 10 positions. The south placed seven, the east six, the southwest five, the far west four and the rocky mountain section one on the all-star squad of 33.

New York State Commission And N. B. A. Dig Up Hatchet

BY SID FEDER

New York, Dec. 9 (AP)—The hatchet which the New York State Athletic Commission and the National Boxing Association buried two years has been dug up again, and the fight game's two leading governing bodies apparently are going to start swinging it at each other's skulls once more.

The boys aren't quite at each other's throats yet about the current lightweight championship scramble which was occasioned by Sammy Angott's retirement. But with the New York fistie fathers deciding to name the winner of the Dec. 18 Beau Jack-Tippy Larkin tussle as champion, and the NBA insisting no titleholder would be sanctioned until a nation-wide tournament is completed, you could hardly call the situation between the two outfits all sweetness and light.

So it would appear that the honeymoon between the two organizations, which has led to ironing out all of the wrinkles in the light-heavyweight and lightweight mix-ups in the past two years, is about over.

It was this "peace, brother" set-up that put Gus Lesnevich all alone on the 175-pound throne, Tony Zale at the head of the middleweight parade, and made Angott as the sole boss of the 135-pounders after much "bi-titular" confusion.

But now Abe Greene, NBA president, accuses the New York Commission of "breaking faith" by giving its title blessing to the Jack-Larkin winner. Commission Chairman John J. Phelan and his two co-workers also decreed a tournament "under the supervision of the New York commission" with the winner getting first crack at the "title" won by either Jack or Larkin.

However, Greene declares this is an about face from what the New York moguls agreed to at a conference with him. This agreement, he said, was that Jack and Larkin would tangle for recognition as No. 1 contender, and that the winner would have to meet the survivor of a tournament before anyone is given NBA championship recognition.

Church Will Celebrate 125 Years of Work

Cole Hill, Dec. 8.—The Presbyterian church at Garland will celebrate its one hundred twenty-fifth anniversary next Sunday, December 13, at 2:30 p. m. Dr. W. J. Prout, of Tidoult, and Rev. C. E. Reed, Presbyterian superintendent, will have charge of the church service.

The church was organized in 1817 at the house of James White, which used to stand near Peter McKinney's Corners, on the Moore farm. His father, Giles White, built the first saw mill on Andrews Run in 1800. Church services were held in homes until 1840 when the first Presbyterian church was built beside the Presbyterian cemetery. The Presbyterian church now in use was built in 1872.

There were church services in the Garland Methodist church on Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. Dwight Jack gave an interesting talk about the "Sincerity of Christ." The Willing Workers will hold their Christmas party at the home of Mrs. H. G. Irwin, Sr., on Thursday, December 17.

COURT HOLDS ELECTION ON LOCAL OPTION VOID
Philadelphia, Dec. 9.—(P)—A local option referendum which banned the sale of liquor at Waynesburg, Pa., was declared illegal yesterday by the Pennsylvania superior court.

The court held that the election board had not complied with the law requiring public notices of a special election. It reversed the Greene county court, which held that general news publicity had been adequate.

Philadelphia, Dec. 9.—(P)—Ensign Richard V. Tashjian, 24, was found dead in a car in the garage at his home yesterday and Misericordia hospital attendants blamed carbon monoxide.

Tashjian, a navigation instructor in the naval aviation school at Miami, was home on leave. His sister, Mrs. Dorothy T. Chalkin, said he had been disappointed because disability grounded him as a naval flier.

Rothrock said Kenneth Eichler, uncle of the boy, who was driving the truck, did not know his nephew had fallen and did not stop. A newspaper collector found the body.

FAGAN TRAILING IN MINE ELECTION COUNT

Pittsburgh, Dec. 9.—(P)—John P. Busarello, who was supported by friends of John L. Lewis in the race for president of District 6, United Mine Workers of America, led Patrick T. Fagan, close friend of Philip Murray, as returns were compiled slowly today from yesterday's election.

William Hargest, secretary-treasurer of the district, reported a count from 40 of the 160 locals showed Busarello leading "about two to one."

Fagan has had virtually no opposition during his 22-year-old career in this district, which has 40,000 members, until he failed to join Lewis' move to oust Murray as international vice president of the UMW.

Assemblymen in Caucus To Pick Speaker

Cambria, majority whip; and William E. Habbyslaw of Dauphin, chief clerk; and William R. Roan, of Luzerne, secretary.

As the house majority convened in an organization caucus, however, protests were heard from Representatives Harry E. Trout of Lancaster and John H. McKinney of Venango.

"We haven't been called in any conferences but we're still candidates for speaker," Trout declared, adding that he was speaking for himself and McKinney.

He said he did not know what party leaders had in the way of support of Fiss but said several delegations of house members last night held informal conferences to talk over their plans.

State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor has predicted that Fiss would be named speaker at the session, which also was called to plan for the 1943 general assembly session, convening Jan. 5.

New Gains Are Notched By Red Army

Fighting in the narrow, wreckage-strewn streets of the city continued to be confined to small groups, it was said.

The mounting activity of German armor and planes was noted by Red Star on the central front, too. In the Velikie Luki sector, despite recent snowstorms, Russian fliers shot down seven Nazi bombers in one day, dispatches said.

Newly concentrated German reserves were reported in violent counterattacks west of Rzhev.

But the Russians claimed that they set back three Nazi attempts to take an important highway on the central front, occupied four more populated points in a still-developing offensive and routed a battalion in a prolonged struggle for one village.

Allied Air Forces Challenge Axis for Control in Africa

MacArthur's headquarters reported that Allied bombers broke up a fifth Japanese sea-borne attempt to reinforce their beleaguered ground troops in the Buna-Gona sector.

Blasted with 500-pound bombs, one of the Japanese squadron of six destroyers was left "enveloped in flames" and the other five were driven northward in flight.

On the New Guinea beaches, American and Australian troops advanced slightly in fighting around Buna airdrome and beat off strong Japanese counterattacks from Buna village and Buna mission, where at least 40 Japanese were killed.

An enemy light cruiser and four destroyers were sunk in the four previous attempts to land troops and supplies on the Papuan shore.

BANK SWINDLERS ARE FOILED BY A CLERK
Philadelphia, Dec. 9.—(P)—Three men who the Federal Bureau of Investigation said were wanted in several cities for bank swindles totaling $250,000 were called before United States commissioner today on charges involving an attempt to fleece the National Bank of Olney (Philadelphia) of $4,000.

No Individual Credit Given For Pearl Harbor Pictures

Policy forbade identification of individual photographers, but Lt. Cmdr. A. D. Fraser who, under Captain Herbert W. Taylor, as director, is executive officer of the navy's photographic section, agreed today to tell something about their work.

There were about 60 navy picture-makers at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese bombs started falling. Not all were out snapping their cameras under enemy fire. Some had to work in the dark-rooms developing films and printing pictures. The navy has laid down the rule of no individual credits.

Since Pearl Harbor the navy has broadened its photographic activities to train its men to take pictures with pictorial as well as technical interest and has also taken in some men experienced in news photography. While it is the news pictures that reach the public, it is the technical pictures that help win battles.

Aerial photographs helped immeasurably in the conquest of the southeastern Solomons by furnishing the commanders with accurate information on Japanese defenses there.

The Georgian military road, 150 miles long, is the only paved highway suitable for heavy motor traffic through the Caucasus mountains.

DROWNING IS RECALLED
Newport, Dec. 9.—(P)—Glenn Smith, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Smith, of Mirflin, broke through the ice of the Juniata river while skating last Jan. 15. Two teen age trappers yesterday discovered a skeleton along the banks of the Juniata which Deputy Coroner John Whit, of Perry county, said was identified as that of the missing boy.

Attempt To Reinforce Frustrated

Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said that Japanese planes "have violated the laws of war by repeated attacks upon Allied hospital installations, killing doctors, medical personnel and patients."

On Nov. 27, Japanese planes bombed an Australian field ambulance in the Opua area and an American regimental dressing station, killing 29 persons and wounding 31. On Dec. 2 an American field hospital in the Buna area was bombed, but no damage was caused, it was reported.

The same hospital unit was bombed twice on Dec. 7 by dive bombers and seven persons were killed. Thirty others were wounded. In each instance, the communiqué said, the hospital units were conspicuously marked.

The Japanese destroyer force driven off yesterday was first sighted between New Britain and New Ireland by an Allied reconnaissance unit. The warships were heading south from New Britain.
